

The Gooden School

Hot Lunch Program

My name is Leslie Blythe Miller and I have been providing hot lunches for the students at The Gooden School since 2004. I am a parent of two Gooden alumnae: Zoe (who was a teacher assistant at Gooden last year) and Grace. Since studying at La Varenne in Paris and graduating from the Culinary Business Academy, I have had many roles in the culinary world. I am a personal chef, caterer (Blythe's Bites), food blogger (blythesblog.com), and cooking class instructor (teaching both adult and children's cooking classes).

I prepare daily lunches in the school kitchen at a cost of $6.50 per child. This year no one will be allowed to enter the kitchen before or after lunch service. I will follow safety guidelines by wearing PPE and sanitizing all materials and surfaces within the kitchen and serving areas. During new staggered lunch sessions, small groups of children will pick up their individual lunches one at a time on a table outside of the Multi-Purpose Room (MPR). I plan to take weekly lunch orders (instead of by month) and ask that you place your order by the prior Sunday.

I feel lucky to have been given the opportunity to prepare wholesome meals for the students at The Gooden School. I have learned so much from them and enjoy the challenge of getting them interested in healthy food choices. I am always happy when I can convince a student to try something that they think they dislike, and they end up liking it!

If you have any questions or comments, please feel free to call, email, or come find me in the kitchen.
